

Congratulations

Mrs. Hilda D. Gadsden is the 16th President of the Woman's Baptist Educational and Missionary Convention of South Carolina. Along with many of her life accomplishments, on Saturday, May 1, 2021, Morris College, Sumter, South Carolina Commencement Convocation, President Gadsden will be awarded the Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters.

In March of 2021, the City Council of Charleston, South Carolina, appointed President Gadsden to the City of Charleston Commission on Women.

President Gadsden has held membership in several international, national, statewide, and community organizations. She has received numerous recognitions for her service to making people's lives better.

She has consistently demonstrated the ability to rise to the challenge that one must face as a Christian servant leader. The surrounding communities have been blessed by the leadership and service of President Gadsden.

President Gadsden is married to Reverend Mack A. Gadsden, Sr., Senior Pastor, for 33 years of the New Hope Missionary Baptist Church, North Charleston, South Carolina. She has three children, Reverend Dr. Maxcina C. Gadsden, Postal Inspector Mack A. Gadsden, Sr., Bishop Michael D. Gadsden, eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren.